

12th IMPRS Uncertainty Summer School Jena, Germany, July 22nd till August 17th

The IMPRS Uncertainty Summer School aims at stimulating the scientific discourse on decision making under uncertainty between economists, psychologists, and legal scholars. The 12th IMPRS Uncertainty Summer School will be held from July 22nd till August 17th 2018 at the Friedrich Schiller University Jena.

Are you currently a PhD student? Are you interested in the IMPRS Uncertainty Program? If you wish to participate in the IMPRS Uncertainty Summer School 2018 you can apply online! All you have to do is to fill in the online application form and submit your CV as well as ONE letter of recommendation.

PROGRAM

WE OFFER:

- » Four weeks of courses and talks in Economics, Law, and Psychology held by leading researchers
- » Chance to develop own projects in small interdisciplinary teams
- » An inspiring, intercultural and interdisciplinary environment
- » Confirmed courses and talks can be found on our homepage (www.imprs-uncertainty.mpg.de/summerschool/)

The key note will be given by Klaus Schmidt (LMU Munich) on August 4th.

APPLICATION

- » WHO? PhD students with a background in Law, Economics, Psychology, or related disciplines are invited to apply.
- » HOW? Please submit a CV, one recommendation letter, and a letter of interest. The online application form can be found at:
www.imprs-uncertainty.mpg.de/summerschool/
- » WHEN? The application process ends April 15th, 2018!

For further information about the summer school and the application process please visit:
www.imprs-uncertainty.mpg.de/summerschool/