

The Department of Economics (Institute for International Economics) of WU Vienna is currently inviting applications for an Assistant Professor, non-tenure track, fulltime, 40 hours/week. This employee position will be limited until October 31, 2023, starting on November 01, 2019 (commencement date subject to change).

Responsibilities

The successful candidate will

- enrich and extend the research of the Department of Economics by publications in high quality international journals
- contribute to the department's effort in acquiring third party funded research projects
- contribute to the department's teaching portfolio in Applied Economics that encompasses the Bachelor, Master and PhD Level
- provide guidance to less senior researchers at the department
- contribute to the administrative and organizational tasks of the institute and the department

Profile

The successful candidate should

- have a doctoral degree or PhD in Economics or a closely related field
- have a focus in her or his research in the field of international economics
- have a focus on using quantitative and/or empirical research methods
- be international in his/her career perspectives
- have already a promising publication record as evidenced by publications (or progress towards publications) in high quality international scientific journals and by acquiring third party funded projects
- have a demonstrated commitment to excellence in teaching
- non-German speaking candidates are expected to acquire knowledge of workable German

ID: 373

For more information, contact Univ.Prof. Dr. Harald Badinger, +43 1 31336-4133, E-Mail: harald.badinger@wu.ac.at please submit your application under www.wu.ac.at/jobs.

Application deadline: 09 October 2019

